Was he brave there? and what was his occupation on the island?' 'No, madam, he was a bread-she was most always the niggers ate him; and as for his taste, the chief said he tasted of terbacker.' The lady walked to another part of the ship, and the captain smiled and took a fresh quid of 'terbacker' himself.

Our Wilmington Correspondence.

Wilmington, April [illegible], 1874.

Dear Recorder:—After an interval of absence of two weeks, which I hope your readers have [illegible] I again resume the pleasure of a weekly communication with them.

The planting and depression of an exceedingly dull season is upon us, and business was never "deader" at this season of the year than it is now, and the long, solemn faces of our merchants are anything but encouraging to look upon. Money is just about as scarce as hen's teeth, and only on occasional greenback settles down upon us that such things are, and ought to be, but are not. True, you can get plenty of them at the banks by giving good collaterals, in mortgages as security, and by paying 18 per. for the privilege of passing into one hand and out of the other, but only the favored few (favored by fortune) are permitted this privilege. They call it 18 pr. cent. you can figure it up for yourself, what the interest really is when you understand that it is paid in advance and is deducted from the amount your note calls for. And yet, a great deal of this business is done by the banks, [illegible] by them, 18 per cent, thus yielding them nearly two hundred per cent clear profit.

We have had some little political excitement here of late. The Conservative County Convention met at the Court House in this city last Wednesday night, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the Judicial and Congressional Convention. This city has 26 delegates and the County outside of the city 24, and it has been decided that the vote of the county be cast as a unit both for Congressmen and Judge.

Our truckers are now extensively shipping their "garden sass" to the Northern markets, and as a consequence, we see but few things offered for sale here. Green peas, lettuce, kale, and radishes have been on hand for several days, and I saw the first cucumbers of the season, [illegible] at the farm of W. B. Giles Esq. at Wrightsville Sound, and the fellows brought $1.50 per dozen. I am not fond of cucumbers this early in the season. The peach crop, like yours, has been almost entirely destroyed, but I believe there will be a good supply of other fruits this season.

Our projected road to the Sound is, I fear, a failure. It has evidently gone to look for Jim Fisk, and [illegible] when last heard from was [illegible] on to the tall end of the woodbine. As for the cotton factory, that seems, at last accounts, to be a settled fact.

You will be rejoiced to learn that we are to have at last a new Post office building. It is to be located on the corner of 2nd and Chesnut sts, on the premises known formerly as the Meares property, but now owned by the Hon. R. R. Bridgers. As the Department can't buy without a special act and appropriation, it will lease for a term of years. The new building is to be of hard brick, two stories high, with a tower on top, and with entrances on both streets. It is not, by any means, what we are entitled to have, but a half a loaf, you know, is better than no bread.

CAPE FEAR.

'A Wonder of Medical Science,' may well be applied to 'Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It is nearly half a century since this remarkable remedy was introduced to the public, and yet the immediate and enviable reputation which it gained by its wonderful cures of coughs, colds, hooping coughs, sore throats, influenza, consumption, and all bronchial complaints is to this day full sustained.

A darkey was once attempting to steal a goose, but a dog raised an objection, and Sambo retired. The next night, during a thunder shower, he attempted it again, and just as he was on the point of getting away with the fowl, the lightning struck close by, and the noise nearly frightened the poor fellow to death. Dropping the goose, he started away, muttering, 'Pears to me der am a mighty lot of fuss made 'bout a common goose.'

Some of the Greenland glaciers attain a vast size. Dr. Kane reports the great Humboldt glacier as sixty miles wide at its termination. Its seaward face rises abruptly from the level of the water to a height of 300 feet, but it is not known how deep it may extend under the sea. Another important ice-stream is the Glacier of Eisblink, on the Northwest part of the island. It projects seaward so as to form a promontory thirteen miles in length. It comes from an unknown distance in the interior, and plunges deeply into the sea.

A wicked little boy in a Denver Sunday school was asked by his teacher if he had learned anything during the past week. 'Oh, yes,' said he. 'What is it that you have learned?' 'Never lead a deuce when you've got an ace back of it,' was the reply.

A Georgia editor was bitten by a dog, being evidently mistaken for a bone.

DICKENS' LOVE OF APPLAUSE AND MONEY.

The moment that Dickens felt his invention failing in the least degree, the prospect of retaining the public by reading the older stories, and basking by nearer and personal contact the sunshine of popular applause, was fascinating and overpowering. His pleasure in it, as one of the English critics says, is a little humiliating in a man of his great genius. It is the more so when he listened intently for the clink of the guinea as well as for the murmur of delight. Yet no man needed money more, nor might more readily earn it. His family was very large, his estate was costly, and his manner of living profuse. But the reader presently sees with sorrow that, as with the great predecessor, Scott, the chief question gradually came to be how much money he could make out of his genius. And as with Scott, although in a smaller degree, the sum was enormous. By his readings alone Dickens made nearly a quarter of a million of dollars, one hundred thousand of them between the 1st of December and the 1st of May in the United States. The physical labor and exposure of traveling, and the nervous exhaustion of the readings, with the tremendous pace, as he would have called it in another, of the rest of his life, were enough to destroy any man. During all his travels, both in the earlier and the later day, when he ran over to the Continent or moved about England to find inspiration or seclusion or excitement, he constantly wrote the most copious letters, full of fun and shrewdness and fine fancy, and walked miles and miles, and devised entertainments, and acted plays, and presided at meetings and feasts, and made delightful speeches, and seemed to live all the occupation of a very active and busy man before considering the real business in hand at the time. Such animal spirits as in his earlier years were certainly never known. They bubbled about him and overflowed all who came in contact with him. They affected his style of writing, and despite the sagacious Taine, they gave his descriptions much of their singular vitality and power.—Editor's Easy Chair, in Harper's Magazine for May.

MACREADY PERPLEXED.

When Macready, the actor, visited this country, he found many things to puzzle and perplex him, for he was as precise and angular as Grewgious. The idioms and the eccentricities of the Yankees were beyond his comprehension. At one of our theatres, where he was performing an engagement, he had occasion to find fault with the supporting actors, who were a particularly free-and-easy set. Going to the manager one day, he said:

'Mr. Manager, you have deceived me, sir. You have told me that which was not true sir!'

'Bless me,' cried the manager, in surprise, 'how so?'

'About your actors, sir. Did you not tell me that Mr. C—— was on a bigh?'

'Yes.'

'And that Mr. S—— had a touch of tangle foot?'

'Yes.'

'And that Mr. P—— had a brick in his hat?'

'Aye—that was what I said.'

'And in explanation of the conduct of Mr. B—— you told me that he had a snake in his foot?'

'Certainly—I did.'

'Well, sir,' announced the great tragedian in his most solemn and indignant manner, 'I find upon critical examination that these men are all drunk, sir! All drunk!'

WHAT THE WEST IS GOING TO DO ABOUT IT.

Washington Correspondence New York Herald.

It was openly said that there would not be a [illegible] elected who accepted or acquiesced in the President's views in the three Northwestern States. The same assertion is made of the central West. Ohio leans by a small majority to the President by direct sympathy. A canvass of that delegation gives two or three majority. In the delegations of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, in all fifty-eight members, of whom [illegible] are Democrats. There are but [illegible] of either party as opposed to [illegible] ure of inflation. Judge Buckner, of Missouri, who is a Democrat, has taken a prominent part in suggesting a war on the national bank system and in favoring a treasury currency instead. He said in conversation to-day that the large majority of the Democratic members had in conference resolved to make antagonism of the national banking system their war cry. This was, he said, the policy of the Democracy in the West and South. He said also that in his opinion the excitement over the policy of rigid contraction indicated in the message, rather than the veto of the bill, would in the West and South almost obliterate party lines, and it was sustained by others of either party.

Milwaukee thought she had a case wherein a young girl died of a broken heart, but it turned out that her corset strings were too tight, and one stroke of a jack knife revived her.

A YOUNG DEVIL.

Boston, April 23.

A little boy four and a half years old was found yesterday afternoon by a policeman lying dead in the marshes, near the Dorchester line. His body was horribly mutilated. His head was nearly severed from his body, and about forty stabs were found in different parts of his body. The boy's name was Horace Millen, the son of poor parents.

A boy of fifteen years of age, named Howard Pomeroy, who resides in Chelsea, has been arrested for murdering the child. Young Pomeroy was recently pardoned from the State Reform School, where he was sent for cutting and mutilating several children younger than himself.

He was shown the body of his victim and being asked if he ever saw the boy before, he said he 'Yes, but I don't want to see him any more.' He seemed ill at ease while in the room and showed evidence of guilt. He said if he did the deed he was sorry for it. After looking at the body Detective Wood asked him if he did that, referring to the cutting. He replied: 'Yes, I killed him.' Later, on his way back from the undertaker's he said, in answer to questions: 'I suppose I killed him.' Detective Woods then asked him what he thought ought to be done with him, and he replied: 'Put me somewhere so I can't do such things.' The youth is undoubtedly insane.

The record of this boy Pomeroy is extraordinary. His last victim, whom he stabbed, and horribly mutilated and threw into a marsh, was four years of age. His previous victims were many. One was a son of Mr. Payne, of Chelsea, who was, about Christmas 1871, taken by Pomeroy to Powder Horn Hill, stripped naked, tied to a beam, beaten with a rope, and left helpless. Tracey Hayden, another boy, was on February 21, '72, stripped, tied up, and beaten with a board and ropes, by which some of his teeth were knocked out, the bridge of his nose broken, and other more serious and inhuman injuries inflicted. Johnny Balch was enticed to Powder Horn Hill soon after July 4, 18-72, stripped gagged, tied to a beam, beaten, and then taken to a salt water creek and washed. Rob. Gould, in September of the same year, was taken from South Boston to the vicinity of the Hartford and Erie Railroad, stripped, tied to a telegraph pole, whipped, and cut with a knife in the head. Henry Austin, in August of the same year, was at South Boston, stripped beaten, and cut in the back and groin with a knife. George Pratt, about the same time, was enticed into the cabin of a yacht at South Boston, stripped and punctured with pins and needles in different parts of his body, and left insensible and bleeding. Joseph Kennedy was about the same time taken to a place on the Old Colony road in South Boston and maltreated in about the same manner that the Gould boy had been. These boys were all of tender age, from seven to eleven years old. For these offences he was sent to the Reform School in 1872, but in that institution his conduct was so good he was paroled on February 6th last on the petition of his mother, who is a dressmaker.

A RACE OF MEN WHO HAVE NOT YET LEARNED TO TALK.

[From the Siam Weekly Advertiser.]

On the Island of Borneo has been found a certain race of wild creatures of which kindred varieties have been discovered in the Philippine Islands, Terra del Fuego, and in South America. They walk usually almost erect, on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They construct no habitations, form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves, feed on snakes and vermin, on ant's eggs, and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot amongst the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When captured alive one finds with surprise that their unintelligible jabbering sounds are like articulated language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their captors, and the female show instincts of modesty. In fine these wretched beings are men and woman.

The prodigal son was the subject of a sermon in Belchertown, Mass., recently, and was discussed in a graphic and novel manner. The reverend speaker represented him as leaving home arrayed in silk hat, broadcloth suit, kerseymeres, gloves and boots in the height of Parisian fashion. After a little time, he was described as a cold morning [illegible] in the middle of a lot on a rock, his silk hat knocked in, broadcloth out at the elbow, French calf boots out at the toes, kid gloves missing, hungry and chewing the husks.'

To Save Cucumbers From Bugs.—Set out an onion, or set up an onion stalk, in each hill of cucumbers, and the streaked bug will keep away.

NEGRO CONGRESSMEN.

At present the [illegible] have seven representatives in the National Congress; four of these are from South Carolina; while Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida have, each, the felicity of one.

South Carolina's birds are Robert B. Elliott, Rainey, Ransier, and Cain. Elliott is a coal black negro, 32 years old, born in New England and educated in Great Britain. He lives in Columbia, S. C., and is a lawyer. His law partner is said to be an ultra white Democrat, a statement that we doubt.

A Northern correspondent thus describes his wife:

'His young wife is a quadroon, with a complexion of the creamy hue of the Southern magnolia, just tinted with a suggestion of the pink roses on cheeks and lips; her eyes are large, brown and expressive, under their long silken lashes, and she has the sweetest and brightest expression and manner in the world.'

Rainey was a South Carolina slave, is 41 years old, a light mulatto, barber by trade, wealthy, and has a large family.

Ransier is a negro with French blood in him, is middle aged, stout.

Cain is the oldest negro in the House, very black, a colored Northern Methodist preacher, and editor.

Mississippi has the youngest colored representative—James Lynch, a mulatto, twenty-five years old, born a Louisiana slave.

Alabama's jewel is James G. Rapier, born free, of French descent, educated in Canada. He is a bachelor, a cotton planter, a person of large means, inherited from his father. He has made a tour of Europe. The last Congressional black bird is Walls of Florida. He is school teacher by profession, and hails from North Carolina. He is a bachelor and a poor speaker.

The enthusiastic female correspondent of a Northern journal from whose letter we glean the above facts, thus writes:

'As orators, the men of African descent have an eloquence that touches the height of grandeur, the depth of pathos, far beyond that of those whose pulses beat languidly with restrained enthusiasm of generations; and as humanitarians, in the settling of human affairs, who, after such years of suffering experience, should surpass them?'

WHAT PLUTARCH SAYS OF BEN. BUTLER.

[Boston correspondence of Springfield Republican.]—Apropos of General Butler and his present attitude I have lately found in a Western newspaper a passage professing to be cited from Plutarch on the habits of our domestic animals, which has recalled some of the Essex statesman's traits so forcibly to my recollection that I will quote it as a contribution to natural history and a fine piece of symbolical writing. 'The eyes of the hog,' says Plutarch, 'are so formed and disposed in the head that it is always looking upon the lowest objects, and can in no manner contemplate things elevated and lofty. It cannot look upward unless thrown back with its feet upward. Although this animal is addicted to the most discordant squealing and grunting, yet as soon as it is laid on its back it is immediately silent, so great is its astonishment at the heavens, to the sight of which it is unaccustomed, and which causes such fear that it is unable to cry.' If it should be objected that a comparison of a Congressman to a porker is undignified, let it be remembered that General Butler has called Mr. Dawes an 'old brindled steer' and a dog, while he has bestowed upon Judge Hoar the name of a still more unsavory animal. He borrowed these epithets, of course, as he does all his jests. His joke about Governor Washburn being a [illegible] nothing at the Legislature could get for Senator, is stolen from an old and musty joke of John P. Robinson's about a Universalist minister in Lowell long ago, which joke General Butler has been familiar with for twenty-five years, long enough, perhaps, he thinks, for him to claim it by right of peaceful possession for twenty years, and it is not good enough for the owner's heirs to reclaim.

What will not woman do, says a Brooklyn paper, for the man she loves?—

Her hand was the first to reach and drag
The bottle from the shelf—
'It is your curse, dear John,' she said,
And drank it up herself.'

While a youthful couple were being joined in wedlock in a Justice's Court in New York recently, the damsel rather astonished a number of spectators by suddenly breaking out with, 'I want to know whether we are to keep house or board before going into this thing!' The Judge ruled the question out of order, and the ceremony proceeded.

The travellers' book at an inn in Switzerland contains the following epigram:

The two Travellers.

'I've lost my portmanteau!'
'I pity your grief.'
'All my sermons were in it!'
'I pity the thief.'

What are you looking after in my daughter? asked an old man at a Christmas party. 'Looking after a son-in-law for you, father,' was the reply.

Hillsborough Recorder.

WEDNESDAY.........MAY 6, 1874.

FOR SUPT. OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

Col. Stephen D. Pool,

OF CRAVEN.

Let there be a full representation at the County Convention to be held on the 9th day of May. Let the people come out and take proper interest in the preliminary movements in the coming campaign.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATIONS.

1. The Executive Committee for the State shall consist as at present appointed, and shall have all the powers heretofore conferred upon it.

2. The Executive Committee for the Congressional and Judicial Districts shall continue as at present constituted, until regularly changed, and shall have general supervision of the affairs of the party in their respective districts.

3. In each county there shall be an Executive Committee composed of a central committee of not less than three members, and at least one committeeman from each township. This committee shall, under direction of the county convention, have entire control of county matters. It shall be their duty to see that all the details of the canvass are properly conducted; that the polls are attended by competent challengers, that each conservative casts his ballot, and that no fraud is perpetrated at the election. They are particularly enjoined to take the necessary steps for the efficient organization of townships, and to seek a wise administration to promote harmony and to inspire confidence.

4. All Executive committees are properly chosen by the conventions held for the respective territorial divisions; but if for any cause there should be a failure by the proper convention to appoint an Executive committee, then the State Executive committee may supply the deficiency.

5. Nominations for county officers and members of the General Assembly shall be made by county conventions; for Town and Township officers, by Town and Township conventions; for members of Congress and Judicial officers by the District conventions.

6. All Conventions shall be open, and due notice of the time and place of convening the same, shall be given.

"Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the members of the Democratic-Conservative party to discourage independent candidates and all other disorganizers, and that all support be promptly withdrawn from every aspirant for office who shall oppose the regular nominees of our Conventions." Resolutions adopted by Democratic Conservative State executive committee.

The resolution above quoted is suggested in wisdom, and with a full view of one of the chief dangers to be apprehended in the coming campaign.

The State is full of men whose vanity brings them up to the contemplation of honors and position, as their just due. It is also full of those whose hopes have been disappointed and their claims postponed.

These men may propose to take advantage of certain causes of dissatisfaction, which no doubt have had foundation. They may propose to hold the Conservative party, as such, responsible for individual error, and make it bear the burden of faults which are everywhere simply the incidents of human nature.

For our own part, we have no tolerance for what is known as independent men in politics. There is no middle ground now. There can be no such thing as neutrality. The position of parties is clearly and sharply defined.

It is needless here to contrast the difference between Conservatism and Radicalism, except to note it as a struggle on the part of the one for the restoration of purity and honesty in the government, which in fact embraces every cause of grievance and oppression now endured by the people; and on the other, the perpetuation of power and office, with the capacity for indefinite misery to the people.

These are momentous issues, and such as come home forcibly to every man in every community in the land. They are issues which cannot be lost sight of, and which will be presented in every phase of the campaign.

The assumption of independence therefore is impossible. It is an absurdity. No man can plead such a weight of character, such a superiority of intellect or acquirement, or such a brilliancy of public service, that he can detach himself from the counsels of his fellow man, and mark out his own independent path.

The masses will not recognize such assumption. Party organization cannot tolerate it. Men will assign to selfishness what the recreant would wish to be ascribed to superior virtue.

We do claim for the Conservative party what regard for the original principles of our government has survived the rude assaults made upon them in the late years of our history. We do claim for it most of the honesty and purity that remains after the demoralization of a protracted war. And we do claim that its mission is to restore the country to its original integrity. If radical rule has left any foundation upon which a superstructure of public virtue may be rebuilt.

Men, therefore of the Conservative party, who undertake to set up a standard of conduct for themselves, to act independently of party organization, to set at defiance the actions of conventions, must be suspected of a readiness to sacrifice principle for profits. They are in the market. Their principles are venal. Let no such men be trusted.

The success of our party depends upon united action, upon adherence to nominations of conventions; to a complete ignoring of bolters.

Stand to your organization, and sustain your nominees.

THE R. & D. R. R.

The bill for the change of the gauge of the Richmond and Danville Road which was endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Richmond, and by a large meeting of the Merchants of the same city, and which passed the House of Delegates by a handsome majority, was indefinitely postponed in the Senate, after a motion of Mr. Duffield to require the R. & D. road to maintain a guage from Danville, uniform with that of the A. T. & O. R. R. instead of from Burkeville, as in the bill as it passed the House of Delegates.

This is equivalent to a defeat of the measure for this session, as the Virginia Legislature is on the eve of adjournment. And it leaves a question which was so nearly brought to a favorable solution open again to all the evils of renewed controversy. It will renew the contest in this State, and embarrass the consolidation scheme by fresh opposition.

North Carolina is no more willing to surrender her rail road system than Virginia appears to be. She adheres to it, because she will not willingly consent to the sacrifice of her towns and ports for the advantage of her neighbors.

The proposition of Col. Buford reconciled all conflicting difficulties. It left Richmond in full possession of all she had, with the prospect of indefinite additions, by the removal of the break at Greensboro and immediate connection at Charlotte. It left the North Carolina system intact, and disarmed our people at once of hostility. They rebel at the violent disruption of their system, and the forcible diversion of their trade.

It seems that the voice of Richmond herself, who may be presumed to have a more direct and vital interest in the measure than any other part of Virginia and to have weighed the gains and loss of the measure with accurate scrutiny, has failed to impress the Senate.

If Virginia can bear it, North Caralina can. But rail road wars have become wearisome, and it is not pleasant to contemplate the re-opening of one which was so near the goal of an amicable adjustment.

PUBLIC ROADS.

It is no use to appeal to the consciences of Grand Jurors, and arraign them for disregard of their oaths in regard to the neglect of the roads by the overseers of roads. They will not hold failures to keep roads in order as crimes, as charged by the Judge, when the road-system is alone responsible. Let the number of roads, declared public, be reduced. Let the force on the roads acknowledged as public be increased by transfer from those thrown out, and let that force be paid for their work out of a fund to be created by taxation levied for that purpose. The work performed by the overseers and their hands is an unjust, unequal and oppressive tax. It should be borne by the public. Roads are a vital necessity to the welfare of the country. They can only be kept in order by money, and that money must come by taxation. This question must be considered by the people, and a sentiment on the subject must be built up. It is full time they wake up to a sense of the deficiencies of our State in regard to its communications, and to the proper steps of remedying the evil.

MAGISTRATE'S JURISDICTION.

We will publish next week for the benefit of Magistrates and others, the law of the last Legislature extending the Jurisdiction of Magistrates. The opinion of Judge Tourgee, set forth in another part of this paper, as enunciated in his charge to the Grand Jury, is calculated to do mischief. We think it essentially wrong. We had prepared a full expression of our own views, but we find we will not have room to insert them this week.

We will have something to say in our next.

DEATH SENTENCE.

David Martin, the young negro who so cruelly murdered the little white boy Willie Carter in Wilmington last summer has received his final sentence at last, his appeal to the Supreme Court having been fruitless. Judge Russell has sentenced him to be hung on the 11th day of June.

THE HIGH WATERS.

The floods in the South and West are without parallel. All the rivers in Alabama are higher than ever before remembered. The waters were up in the streets of Selma. The Mississippi, is a raging sea. Every tributary was full at the same time, pouring into the main stream perfect floods. The Mississippi below Memphis is in some places 60 miles wide. Numerous crevasses have been made, and millions of acres of the finest land in Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana are flooded. Hundreds of plantations are under water, houses swept off, crops already planted ruined, and much of the land will be unfit for culture during the rest of the season. Cattle are drowned and swept off, and the reign of ruin is complete.

It is impossible at this distance to realize so terrible a calamity or to arouse our people to efforts for relief. The very magnitude of the ruin palsies the hand of private charity. It is too stupendous for anything but government aid.

Tens of thousands of people white and black have lost their all, and have only escaped with their lives. The towns are all crowded with starving sufferers, and the horrors of physical want are added to the ruin of property.

BALD MOUNTAIN.

Jos. H. Carson, Esq., says the Charlotte Observer, who is just from his home in Rutherfordton, gives us some facts concerning Bald Mountain. He says there has been no serious commotion in the mountain since last Tuesday. On that day the rumbling was very great, and there was much fear among the people. The mountain heaved and trembled to an alarming degree, and an eruption was momentarily looked for by the people living around it.

Mr. Carson says the quivering is felt sensibly at Rutherfordton, and has been for some time time past. It has been more quiet, though, since Tuesday, and the sensation now is that of quivering.

THE ARKANSAS TROUBLES

Have culminated in a fight between the forces of Brooks and Baxter. A battle took place between them at New Gascony in which nine Brooks men and 3 Baxter men were killed.

This is one of the results of radical rule—the bringing of bad men to the front, the rule of intrigue and corruption, the contempt of law and defiance of public opinion.

The contestants are both of that delectable party whose deadly influence has ruined whatever it has touched; which has withered the life of South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas; which has given a vital blow at the prosperity of our State, and which, with all the wrecks of its past work through the length and breadth of the land, impudently strives again for lost power.

Conservatives of North Carolina, will you sustain, strengthen and re-establish this control, by indifference, by neutrality, by an affected independence, or by division in your counsels?

HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Wilmington gets $100.000 under the general appropriation bill for the improvement of the Cape Fear river and Bar. It is only a third of what was asked for and not a tenth of what is necessary in full justice to so important a work. But 'half a loaf is better than no bread.'

MARKETS.

TOBACCO.—No reports from Richmond or Durham this week. We can say however, that there has been no material change in prices. There is a general complaint that what comes to market, is brought in bad order. This is owing to bad weather, but farmers must take care that in their anxiety to hurry their crops on the market, they do not do themselves serious harm.

DANVILLE, VA., May 2nd reported by S. H. Holland & Co., report no changes. They complain of the general bad order of tobacco:

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE PAIN-KILLER,
Manufactured by
PERRY DAVIS & SON.

HAS won for itself a reputation unsurpassed in medical preparations. The universality of the demand for the PAIN KILLER is a novel, interesting, and surprising feature in the history of this medicine. The Pain-Killer is now regularly sold in large and steadily increasing quantities, not only to general agents in every State and Territory of the Union, and every Province in British America, but to Buenos Ayres, Brazil, Uruguay, Peru, Chile and other South American States, to the Sandwich Islands, to Cuba and other West India Islands; to England and Continental Europe; to Mozambique, Madagascar, Zanzibar and other African lands; to Australia and Calcutta, Rangoon and other places in India. It has also been sent to China, and we doubt if there is any foreign port or any inland city in Africa or Asia, which is frequented by American and European missionaries, travelers or traders, into which the Pain-Killer has not been introduced.

The extent of its usefulness is another great feature of this remarkable medicine. It is not only the best thing ever known, as everybody will confess, for Bruises, cuts, burns, &c. but for Dysentery or Cholera, or any sort of bowel complaint, it is a remedy unsurpassed for efficiency and rapidity of action. In the great cities of British India and the West India Islands and other hot climates, it has become the Standard Medicine for all such complaints, as well as dyspepsia, liver complaints, and other kindred disorders. For coughs and colds, canker, asthma and rheumatic difficulties it has been proved by the most abundant and convincing trials and testimony, to be an invaluable medicine. The proprietors are in possession of letters from persons of the highest character and responsibility, testifying in unequivocal terms to the cures effected and the satisfactory results produced, in an endless variety of cases by the use of this great medicine. That the Pain-Killer is deserving of all its proprietors claim for it is amply proved by the unparalleled popularity it has attained. It is a sure and effective remedy. It is sold in almost every country in the world, and is becoming more and more popular every year. Its healing properties have been fully tested, all over the world, and it need only to be known to be prized.

VALUABLE
RAIL-ROAD PROPERTY
FOR SALE.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Western District of North Carolina, at the April Term, 1874, at Greensboro, in a proceeding then and there pending in Equity, to foreclose a mortgage mentioned in the pleadings between against

The undersigned, Commissioners appointed by the Court at the said April Term thereof, will sell at the Court House door in the city of Salisbury, the 18th day of June, A. D. 1874,

At Public Auction, to the highest bidder, all the franchises, road-bed, rolling stock and property of every kind, nature and description belonging to the said

The Western North Carolina Rail Road Company,

mentioned and described in the said Decree.

The purchaser or purchasers will be required to pay to the Commissioners

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CASH

On the day of Sale, and will be given credit for the balance of the purchase money until Monday the 6th day of July, 1874, the first rule day of said Court, at Greensboro, N. C., next ensuing after the day of sale.

Those who purchase at said sale, provided they be holders of the bonds secured by the mortgage mentioned in the said Decree, may retain their shares of the purchase money, except as to the said sum of $10,000,00, by surrendering to the Commissioners an equal amount of said bonds.

The said Commissioners are authorized, so soon as the said sale shall be confirmed by the Court, to give immediate possession of the said Railroad, its property and effects of every kind and description; and all persons who may be in possession of the said Railroad of any of its property are commanded to surrender the same to the purchasers upon the production of the Commissioners deed to them.

This Road, when its connections shall be completed, will form one of the most in the entire South. Its length is 145 miles, of which 115 miles is completed, that is from Salisbury to Old Fort in McDowell county, at the Eastern base of the Blue Ridge: and the greater part of the remainder of the road is graded, or nearly so.

There has already been expended upon this Road, about $4,000,000,00. It is now sold to satisfy a debt of about $1,400,000,00—which constitutes the first lien upon the property. The Commissioners, believe that the title of the purchaser, will be good.

9th OF MAY.

Remember the County Convention in the Court House in Hillsboro on Saturday the 9th inst.

Let there be a full attendance of the Delegates. All the nominations to be made are of importance, and the delegates to the Judicial and Congressional Conventions should be selected with great care and circumspection.

Festival.

The ladies of the Methodist Church of Hillsboro will hold a Festival for the benefit of the Church in the Hall over Dr. Hooker's Drug Store Friday night, the 8th inst.

University.

Suits were instituted at the last term of the Court by the Trustees of the University against Alexander McIver to recover the Seal, Books, Papers, &c, belonging to the University; and against Solomon Pool to recover possession of the college property which he now contests. Graham and Graham appeared for the plaintiffs, and J. B. Batchelor for Mr. McIver, and J. B. Mason for Pool.

Death of Mrs. W. N. Patterson.

We learn with sincere sorrow of the death of Mrs. Patterson, the wife of our esteemed fellow citizen, Maj. W. N. Patterson, which occurred on Sunday. The sorrowing husband has the sympathies of all in his cruel and unexpected bereavement.

Snow.

On Wednesday morning the 29th there was a most decided snow storm, lasting however but a short time. The air filled with the thickly flying flakes, the high wind, and the very low temperature made the morning decidedly wintry, and considering the lateness of the season, phenomenal, Heavy frost and ice on the morning of the 30th.

Mr. Argo

Grieves that he was ever a citizen of Orange County. Orange is sorry too.

Tobacco Plants.

We hear on all sides the general complaint of the loss of plants by fly and freshet. A short crop is anticipated. It is no cry of wolf this time. Plants will be scarce, and the area of planting small.

The Presbyterian Cemetery.

We have called attention repeatedly to the neglect of the Grave Yard attached to the Presbyterian Church. In doing so we have unadvisedly done injustice by implication, to the congregation. They are in no wise responsible, it having been until very recently the public cemetery of the town. The town authorities are responsible. Like every thing else entrusted to their care, it has been the victim of neglect.

We again call attention to the fact that the cemetery is constantly filled with cows, and with hogs rooting among what should be the hallowed resting places of the dead. It is a reproach which should be bushed.

Col. S D Pool

This gentleman, the Conservative candidate for Supt of Public Instruction and the editor of that valuable journal "Our Living & Our Dead" called on us on Saturday. His visit to Hillsboro has no connection with his candidacy, but is solely in the interests of his paper, which should have the patronage of every confederate soldier, and all who unite to see preserved the memorials of North Carolina share in the late struggle.

The Press.

The Press was represented last week by Mr. Duncan Syme of the News, Mr C. B. Green of the Durham Tobacco Plant, Mr. W. A. Davis of the Torch-Light, and Mr H. J. Cornell of the State Agricultural Journal.

Mrs Jackson, the widow of Genl T. J. Jackson was a guest last week for a day or two of the Hon W. A. Graham.

Our Wilmington letter of last week will be found on first page.

Mr. Woodward, the energetic correspondent on the New York South, honored our sanctum on Friday. He is gathering materials for that Journal. No doubt the historical incidents and associations of our old burg will prove a fruitful theme for his ready pen.

Abel Payne, one of the oldest and most respectable of the colored citizens of Fayetteville, died last week aged nearly 75 years.

His remains were followed to the grave by a large concourse, among whom were many whites—an evidence of the high consideration with which he was regarded.

The Blood owes its red color to minute globules which float in that fluid, and contain, in a healthy person, a large amount of iron, which gives vitality to the blood. The Peruvian Syrup supplies the blood with this vital element, and gives strength and vigor to the whole system.

Another freshet on hand, weather wet, cold and dreary.

Superior Court

For the County of Orange was in session last week. Judge Tourgee was at his post on Monday morning, and the Grand Jury was promptly drawn, and G. W. Jones Esq was made Foreman.

The charge of the Judge was, as has been the case with all from the same source for several terms past, clear, business like, and emphatically to the point. After a general definition of the character and duties of a Grand Jury, in which he marked the distinction between the Grand and Petit juries, which it is unnecessary here to repeat, he proceded to consider some of the changes in the laws which had been made by the last Legislature, and which restricted the powers of the Grand Jury by affecting the jurisdiction of the Superior Court.

Offences against the person, as assaults and batteries except with intent to kill, or where the injury is inflicted or attempted with a deadly weapon, are not cognizable by the grand jury. The Judge defined a deadly weapon to be such an implement, no matter what, as in the hands of the person using it, was capable of inflicting mortal injury. A really deadly weapon, in the hands of a child, or a sick or very feeble person, loses much of its offensive character. Injuries to be considered serious or permanent, must be such as deprive the injured party of the use for a considerable time of a limb or member, or serious disfigurement or mutilation. Such are still cognizable by this Court. But ordinary assaults and batteries, or cases where injuries are merely temporay are not. They are all placed under the jurisdiction of Justices of the peace, with this restriction, that the remedy of justices must be sought at the complaint of the injured party. His honor thought, at the risk of being facetious, that the Bill ought to be entitled "a bill to allow the people to fight in peace"

Another class of crime were those against property, trespass, larceny, burglary, arson &c. It is unnecessary to make other than brief mention of these, since they always receive full share of judicial instruction.

The Judge dwelt at some length on offences against public justice, which embrace such as obstruct the execution of the laws of the State, acts of bribery of a Judge or Jury, or any person acting in an official capacity, and under this head are acts of escape by carelessness of Sheriffs and other officers, rescues &c. Also acts by parties litigant as perjury, or subordination of perjury.

Violations of public decency, and morals. The Judge did not think that the commonest offences under this head were cognizable by any court, under the present law, as complaint had to be made by the party injured; before proceedings could be instituted, and it might always remain problematical which party was injured.

Crimes against public policy. This offence embraced conspicuously the neglect of Grand Jurors to present overseers of public roads for their neglect of their duties. This, one of the most important questions for their consideration, was one which the Grand Jury always seemed to trouble themselves least about. It was a problem in his mind, said the Judge, by what process of reasoning, Grand Jurors, as good citizens who came into court, and with due form and solemn oath oblige themselves to make due presentment of all violations of law, then straightway forget or neglect one of the most imperative of their duties, and one of the most grievous of offences. Yet good men do this time after time, and year after year and think no harm. But it was the most direct, the baldest, trifling with an oath.

The failure to put and keep roads in lawful condition at any time within the past 2 years in the County of Orange, was a crime on the part of the overseer.

The Judge defined what constituted good and lawful roads, a width of 16 feet in the clear, crossings at water courses for foot passengers, sign boards at crossings, timber cut away from margin of road &c &c.

The Judge called attention to the subject of lotteries, as a grave one. The law forbids all lotteries, and all support of them by agencies, advertising and other means of giving them attraction and notoriety. It was no trivial matter, and their was none more deplorable in its consequences. Some States forgot public morals and the safety of the people. This State was happily exempt from such neglect. Every form of lottery is indictable. Men were apt to underate its bad effects, but it really was one of the worst forms of gambling. It had all the fascination of gambling; drew from the poorest and most ignorant means that could not be spared, thereby increasing pauperism, and the greed for ill gotten gain.

He charged that to sell a ticket for any lottery was indictable, and the puplication of schemes &c was also indictable.

The Jury then retired and entered upon their duties.

The business of the Court was light and generally unimportant. There were few cases on the civil docket enlisting the interest of the bar, and the criminal record was meagre in the extreme.

A white man, G. C. McCall was indicted for stealing goods out of the store of W. & D. C. Halliburton of Durham. He was convicted, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for 5 years at hard labor. He has but recently been discharged from that institution.

Mr. Montfort McGehee was in town on Thursday last.

HEALTH! BEAUTY!!

STRONG AND PURE RICH BLOOD—INCREASE OF FLESH AND WEIGHT—CLEAR SKIN AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION SECURED TO ALL.

DR. RADWAY'S

Sarsaparillian Resolvent

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER,

HAS MADE THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES; SO QUICK, SO RAPID ARE THE CHANGES THE BODY UNDERGOES, UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE, THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, glandular disease, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumorous discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting these wastes, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the SARSAPARILLIAN will and does secure—a cure is certain; for when once this remedy commences its work of purification, and succeeds in diminishing the loss of wastes, its repairs will be rapid, and every day the patient will feel himself growing better and stronger, the food digesting better, appetite improving, and flesh and weight increasing.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN SYRUP

AN IRON TONIC

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.
